Want to build open source software to promote social connection?

Dmvboardgames.com is a non-commercial open source website for local board game events that is looking for developers. More information is at https://dmvboardgames.com/html/static/join.html